Although APACKS manufactures an extensive line of packaging equipment in our LaPorte, Indiana facility, our goal is not to sell you a machine. Instead, we listen to your unique challenges and provide the best customized solutions for your application. The scalable design of APACKS fillers, cappers, conveyors, and labelers allows you to replace or add packaging stations to your existing line that will increase automation, speed up production, improve accuracy, reduce downtime and allow you to expand or reconfigure your line as your company grows.
